Prisoners Accused Of Storing Explosives To Blast Bridges

By Associated Press

Police of the Nazified Free City of Danzig today announced the arrest of 20 Marxian Socialists who they said were presumably associated with some hostile foreign power.

The announcement, which came as some capitals had been expressing optimism over Polish-German tension over Danzig, said the prisoners had stored explosives to blow up bridges and added that they would be charged with treason.

Although not naming the country with which the Marxian Socialists were suspected of being connected, the police were said to be trying to learn whether the conspiracy extended into Poland and Russia.

While Europe busied itself with the Danzig and other critical issues, President Roosevelt, having reluctantly abandoned his demand for neutrality revision at the current session of congress, was represented as prepared to take to the country his fight for repeal of the arms embargo. The president and Secretary Hull were finally persuaded that congress has no disposition to spend a month or more debating neutrality legislation.

'DOLLAR DAY' BIG SUCCESS

Merchants Of Twin Cities Declare Event Proved Best Yet

H. R. Saenger, chairman of the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, was made extremely happy at the outstanding success of "Dollar Day" held in the Twin Cities under the sponsorship of this group Wednesday.

"It appears to me that the Dollar day was the best ever held here. It surpassed all our expectations and went to a new high peak. Last year we held a similar Dollar day in August and it was satisfactory but there were lacking the large crowds that thronged the city and secured bargains today," Mr. Saenger said.

He further added that five extra clerks had been employed in the store of which he is manager and that even with the augmented staff they were unable to wait upon the crowd of buyers with the promptness that the occasion deserved.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF STRIKE ORDERED

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Attorney General Murphy today ordered a federal grand jury investigation of the Minneapolis WPA strike situation.

He ordered it following an investigation by the federal bureau of investigation.

Victor E. Anderson, United States District Attorney at St. Paul, Minn., was directed to convene the grand jury.

"The F. B. I. will continue its investigation and its findings will be presented to this grand jury," Murphy's announcement said.

"The grand jury will return indictments if, in its opinion, the facts warrant. The F. B. I. information will be disclosed only to the grand jury."

Justice department officials have persistently refused to disclose what the F. B. I. investigation of the past several days has uncovered in the Minneapolis WPA strike which last week resulted in two fatalities.

The new relief law forbids any person from keeping a man from work on the WPA if he is eligible and wants to work.

Roosevelt And Borah Engage In Heated Exchange

'HOT OIL'

The measure of good fruit borne by The Monroe News-Star editorial of some three weeks ago calling upon the federal government to use all the means at its command to bare the guilt and contribute to the proper punishment of those faithless public servants of Louisiana who had been systematically despoiling it, is naturally a source of deep satisfaction to us. We have reason to know that our editorial was called to the personal attention of President Roosevelt and Attorney General Murphy and that it played a by no means inconsequential part in shaping the decision of the federal authorities to put behind the United States district attorney at New Orleans, then and now engaged in probing the federal end of the Louisiana scandal, all of the inquisitorial resources at its disposal. This is the kind of public service for which newspapers were created, and The News-Star feels a pardonable pride in helping to achieve so fruitful an accomplishment.

The revelations thus far have been almost tragic. And yet they are said to be mere scratches on the surface. If we are to credit seemingly well-authenticated reports at New Orleans and Baton Rouge, only the opening chapters in an appalling story of public betrayal and crime have been written thus far in Louisiana. We are told that corruption has been so widespread, and so many who were once trusted servants are involved in it, that it parallels, if it does not outrival, the mal-odorous Carpetbag era. Public scoundrelism of the postwar period of the last century is truly having its counterpart in Louisiana today.

But, happily, God's law of justice is always working. The way of the transgressor is hard, and to all who betray the public trust for gain there comes a day of righteous retribution. What is being written today in the annals of justice in Louisiana is the natural sequel to public guilt and faithlessness. "Be sure your sins will find you out" is an adage as true today as when it was written centuries ago.

There is a phase of Louisiana's shame upon which some light has been thrown, but upon which much more needs to be cast, because it touches the alleged culpability of men high in authority in this state—men who have been honored with the deepest public confidence and upon whom great distinction in the form of important public office has been conferred. We refer to the "hot oil" scandal. Here is an issue that goes to the very heart of honest government, materially affects the stability of the state's mineral wealth and in a sense fixes Louisiana's standing in the pattern of comity between American states.

Rumor is busy with big names in connection with the secret-marketing of "hot oil" in Louisiana. Report associates, for instance, the name of Mayor Robert S. Maestri, of New Orleans, with "hot oil" transactions of a highly-profitable nature. Mr. Maestri was formerly commissioner of conservation. He was appointed to that post by the late Governor Huey P. Long. It was his duty under the law to issue drilling permits for the development of individual oil and gas areas after proper competitive bidding.

It was Mr. Maestri, we are told, who, while he was commissioner of conservation, financially backed William Helis, in the development of south Louisiana fields. Indeed, there is convincing evidence at hand that Mr. Maestri was equal financial partner of Mr. Helis in these particular exploitations. He is reliably reported to have invested $250,000, borrowed from banks, in the venture. And it is openly charged that much "hot oil" has been drawn from Helis wells for which Mr. Maestri himself, as conservation commissioner, gave permits, and of which he was half-owner.

Are these reports true? We can only answer that the strong evidence in our hands justifies us in giving them to the public. And we say, without the slightest hesitation, that if they ARE true, Mr. Robert S. Maestri is unfit to be mayor of New Orleans or to hold any other public office in this state. And this altogether aside from his culpability under the law.

But this is not the whole story. It is, indeed, only a part of it. Rumor also deals very forcefully with the failure of State Senator James A. Noe to drill along Bayou Bartholomew under authority of a sheaf of non-competitive drilling-permits given him by Mr. Maestri, and to give to Louisiana the benefit of whatever oil production might have been recorded there. The Interstate Gas company had drilled on one side of it, the United Gas company on the other. But, Senator Noe got permits to drill in it notwithstanding, AND HE DID NOT DRILL. Why? Is the story that Senator Noe was compensated by major oil interests not to further develop this area true? That there never was any intention to drill? The public is entitled to information on the subject, and we believe that it is going to get it.

These are only two examples. Because it regards this "hot oil" issue as one of the major angles of the Louisiana scandal, The Morning World welcomes the decision of the federal government to sift this matter, down to the last dust-mote. It rejoices too in the ap-

Warm Words Hurled By Two At White House Conference

END NEUTRALITY ROW

President Decides To Drop Fight For Passage This Session

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—A White House aide said today that President Roosevelt would have to call a special session of congress to act on neutrality legislation should a crisis develop in Europe after adjournment.

The statement came from Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary.

Then asked whether the president was going to take the neutrality issue to the country, Early replied:

"I'm certain of one thing, that from the time congress adjourns until it reconvenes in January, the president will pray as never before in all his life that there will be no new crisis in Europe."

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, reluctantly accepting the advice of senate leaders to abandon his demand for neutrality revision at this session, was represented today as prepared to take his fight for repeal of the arms embargo to the country.

The president left this definite impression with a group which gathered around him last night in an upstairs study of the White House, discussed the international situation, and finally persuaded him and Secretary Hull that congress has no disposition to spend a month or more debating neutrality legislation.

After arguing that the senate's failure to act would weaken the United States' influence in preserving world peace, the president broke up the extraordinary three-hour conference just before midnight.

The Democratic and Republican chieftains who attended said there was

CLARKSON HEAD OF CHEST HERE

C. A. Prophit Named Vice-President Of Twin City Civic Group

A. B. Clarkson was elected president of the Twin City Community chest for the ensuing year at a meeting held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday at 3 p.m.

Other officers elected were C. A. Prophit, vice-president, Dean Selig, treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Mullis, executive secretary.

Bob Burns was elected to fill a vacancy on the board occasioned by the resignation of Lloyd Warren, who stated that his retiring was because of the fact that a pressure of business duties interfered with the giving of sufficient attention to the affairs of the community chest.

Members who will remain on the board for the coming year are: J. E. Marx, Sr., L. P. Landry, W. R. Hatchell, J. L. Ewing, A. B. Clarkson, R. C. Stokes and Mrs. L. V. Tarver.

New board members are as follows: C. A. Prophit, E. H. Miller, H. A. McDonald, W. C. Scott, H. G. Frazer, Dean Selig, and Mrs. J. B. Kugler.

The Twin City Community chest, organized a year ago through the cooperative effort of the citizenship of Monroe and West Monroe, has been declared to have proved one of the most constructive and cooperative pieces of civic work in the history of the two cities. Regardless of race, business rivalry, religion and other circumstances, men and women have unselfishly put their shoulders to the wheel as one individual and with a remarkable show of team work have outclassed even fondest hopes of those who sponsored the project, stated those familiar with the past year's achievements. W. R. Hatchell, president for the past year, was accorded a large share of credit for the year's success. His untiring energy, resourcefulness and originality aided in no small degree to the successful outcome, board members assured.

DUHE WILL FACE INCOME CHARGES

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—(AP)—The United States attorney's office here announced John Paulin Duhe, New Iberia planter and chairman of the state Republican central committee, would be arraigned here Monday on a charge he evaded income tax payments of $10,732.47 for the years 1933, 1935, 1936 and 1937.

The government computed his income for those years at $98,633.85 and taxes he paid at $673.92.

FIRST DETAILS ON SINKING OF VESSEL GIVEN

Those Rescued From Japanese Freighter Go To Other Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—(AP)—First details of the sinking of the Japanese freighter Bokuyo Maru and rescue of 200 passengers and crew members with loss of three lives were received today by radio from the skipper of the rescue tanker Associated, owned by the Tidewater Associated Oil company.

In a terse message to B. H. Haney, oil marine superintendent for the company, Captain L. E. Hawkins said he arrived at the scene of the sinking, about 1,200 miles east of Yokohama, six hours after the combination freight-passenger carrier sent out her last distress signal.

He said his tanker, loaded with 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline, approached the scene in a dense fog and found the survivors—100 passengers and a crew of 100—in lifeboats floating amid much wreckage from the 8,619-ton Bokuyo Maru. He did not say whether there were any passengers among the missing persons. Officials of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, operators of the vessel, expressed the opinion all of the passengers were saved.

When the survivors were taken aboard, Captain Hawkins said he learned the fire had broken out in the Bokuyo Maru's nitrate cargo and the crew had been unable to halt the flames.

The passengers and crew took to

FEARS FELT FOR KIDNAPED WOMAN

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 19.—(AP)—Fear for the safety of Mrs. Bernice Beckwith, 27, allegedly kidnaped by her divorced husband, mounted today when police reported more than 20 hours after she was seized at gunpoint before the eyes of her present husband that they were practically without clues.

In a desperate effort to capture James J. Kehoe, 24, of Hudson, described by Acting Police Chief George J. Bernier as a former convict and abductor, state and local police patrolled all roads leading to the western part of the state and searched roadside cabins and camps in the Aldrich lake section, a sparsely settled district.

The missing woman divorced him six years ago when he was sentenced to Concord reformatory for burglary.

Bernier reported the abductor held up Mrs. Beckwith, her husband, Cyril, and Leroy Langdon in Langdon's plumbing shop yesterday, took $9 from the men and then forced the trio into his automobile.

He directed Beckwith to drive to an isolated section near South Hadley. Beckwith managed to escape when the car stopped and Langdon was ordered to walk down the road with his hands in the air. Then the man drove off, officers were told, with Mrs. Beckwith beside him.

Beckwith said Kehoe tried to shoot him as he fled, but his pistol jammed.

U. S. MAY SOON END TESTIMONY AGAINST BRIDGES

Defense Expects To Spend Month In Presenting Evidence

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—(AP)—An early end to the labor department's testimony in the deportation trial of Longshoremen's Leader Harry Bridges appeared possible today.

Raphael P. Bonham, naturalization official, said the government had not decided whether to call six or eight witnesses under subpoena, and if these should not be called the government testimony would conclude "early next week."

Defense attorneys have indicated their presentation probably would take a month.

The government put one witness on the stand yesterday, and when he stepped down at noon it had no others and Trial Examiner James L. Landis adjourned the hearing until today.

The witness was John Layton Leppold of San Francisco, former member of the Marine Cooks' union (C. I. O.), who said he was forced from his job because of his anti-Communist activities. He said he did not know whether Bridges was a Communist.

Bridges, Australia-born west coast C. I. O. director, is on trial at Angel island in San Francisco bay on a charge he should be deported as an undesirable alien.

Leppold said he had been warned anonymously by telephone on June 6 "not to testify at the Bridges hearing."

The witness testified he had been expelled from the Marine Cooks and Stewards union in April, 1938, on charges of anti-union activities filed by a member of the Communist party. Defense attorneys brought out in cross-examination his expulsion came after two trials before a union trial committee, and a members' vote.

POLICE SCOLD MAN WHO SAVES WOMAN

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Arthur Parker, 43-year-old government clerk, was a man of mixed emotions today—basking in congratulations for pulling a young woman from the Potomac river and angry at police who, he said, chose to direct traffic rather than help him in the rescue.

Parker, driving last night with his wife over a highway bridge, which links the District of Columbia and Virginia, saw that Ella Sisk, 20, was in the water. Two truck drivers lowered him 40 feet with a rope and he pulled her out after 25 minutes of keeping her afloat.

Back on the bridge eventually, he found police unsnarling the customary jam. He chided them for not helping and got wrathy too when he found they had shooed his wife away in their car.

Then, he was scolded by another policeman for walking on the no-pedestrian part of the bridge while hunting the car.

BAPTIST MEET TO DRAW FROM MANY NATIONS

Organization Without Authority To Attract More Than 50,000

ATLANTA, July 19.—(AP)—An organization without authority, its members nevertheless had enough force today to draw thousands of persons from many nations towards Atlanta for a world-wide religious gathering.

It is the Baptist World alliance which opens its sixth congress Saturday. Upwards of 50,000 persons from 60 nations are expected but they will come simply as "messengers" or, as implied by their certificates from home church organizations, as "Baptists in good standing."

To call them "delegates," explained Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke of London, general secretary of the alliance, would signify the delegation or authority to speak for others in religious matters and transgress traditional Baptist doctrine.

Dr. Rushbrooke pointed out that each of the thousands of Baptist churches is a self-governing unit built entirely on voluntary membership and voluntary association with other churches.

"Nothing is more utterly alien to the alliance," he said, "than the idea of exercising authority over any Baptist organization or church—even in the

LIBEL SUIT IS FILED BY NOE

Candidate For Governor Bases Action On Editorial Wednesday

SHREVEPORT, La., July 19.—(AP)—The Shreveport Journal early today received advices from Monroe, La., that following the filing of an affidavit by State Senator James A. Noe, gubernatorial candidate, charging John D. Ewing and Wilson Ewing, Monroe and Shreveport newspaper publishers with criminal libel against Senator Noe, District Judge David I. Garrett of the Fourth judicial district authorized warrants for the arrest of the two Ewings and set their bonds at $500 each. The warrants were turned over to the Ouachita parish sheriff for service.

Senator Noe filed the affidavit charging libel to him by the Ewings as the result of an article appearing in Wednesday's issue of the Monroe Morning World owned and operated by the Ewings at Monroe in which article Senator Noe's name was mentioned in connection with "hot oil."

AMERICAN LINER STRIKES JAP SHIP

SHANGHAI, July 19.—(AP)—The American liner President Coolidge and the Japanese freighter Nissan Maru collided today in the Whangpoo river. Numerous plates of the liner's side were bent. No one was injured.

The President Coolidge was turning in the river, preparatory to tieing up at a buoy when the Japanese ship, coming downriver, apparently misjudged the current and struck the liner on the port side amidships. The bow of the Japanese craft was damaged.

Aboard the President Coolidge was Rear Admiral Thomas Charles Hart, arriving from the United States, to take over command of the United States Asiatic fleet from Admiral Harry E. Yarnell next Tuesday.

Tugwell Says Firms Forced To Sell Through One Concern

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—(AP)—Former Governor Richard W. Leche was recalled as a witness by the East Baton Rouge grand jury today as a federal investigation of Louisiana's $100,000,000 a year oil business, fourth largest of any state, moved forward here.

Leche entered the courthouse carrying documents called for by the grand jury, but District Attorney Dewey Sanchez refused to say whether these were cancelled checks and receipts which Leche said he would produce as evidence of payment for work done at his Covington estate by George Caldwell, dismissed construction superintendent at Louisiana State university.

The jury questioned Leche nearly three hours Monday, and late yesterday sent word for him to reappear for further questioning.

Leche went into the jury room at 10:30 a.m. It was believed he was to be the only witness called before the jury's noon recess.

A special investigator sent here by Secretary of Interior Ickes today opened an office in the federal building to continue his "hot oil" study as State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell released a statement saying most drillers had to purchase machinery and supplies through a Houston, Tex., firm which got a ten per cent commission.

JACK RUSSELL CAPTURED IN FISHING CAMP

Calmly Waits As Captor Weighs Claims Of Various Authorities

OZARK, Ark., July 19.—(AP)—Oklahoma authorities obtained custody of Jack Russell, escaped McAlester convict, today over the claim of other states.

The 39-year-old fugitive, whose crime-strewn flight of a week was ended near here yesterday by a rural sheriff, was turned over to Warden Jess Dunn and Deputy Warden H. B. Criber of McAlester.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas authorities also had sought the kidnap-murder suspect.

OZARK, Ark., July 19.—(AP)—Jack Russell, 39, whose crime-strewn, seven-day flight from the Oklahoma penitentiary was intercepted by a rural sheriff, calmly waited today in the Franklin county jail while his captor weighed the claims of various state and federal authorities for the convict's custody.

Sheriff Champ Crawford, who captured the ex-barroom singer without a struggle in a fishing camp 15 miles north of Ozark yesterday, arranged a conference with authorities who had come here to claim Russell.

Although Oklahoma officials asked to return Russell to the McAlester prison and federal authorities held numerous warrants for him, Sheriff Crawford said he thought he would turn the prisoner over to Illinois authorities, "if they have a case."

Russell was charged in a federal warrant at Chicago yesterday with the kidnap-slaying of William S. Hamilton—an offense stoutly denied by the convict. Hamilton, 23, Arkansas City, Kas., flour salesman, was killed and apparently dumped from an automobile last Friday near Ringwood, Ill.

From the time he fled from McAlester until Crawford—disguised as a fisherman—took him by surprise, Russell's trail led through six states and was marked by a series of kidnapings, robberies and car thefts.

In addition to the Hamilton kidnap-slaying, the one-time cowboy and "model prisoner" is accused of the abductions of E. C. Brown, commer-

Glorifying Yourself

BY ALICIA HART
(NEA Service Staff Writer)

A really smart woman never is a carbon copy. She doesn't try to look or act like anyone except herself. She doesn't copy a movie star's coiffure unless it happens to be as becoming to her as to the movie star. She doesn't adapt the mannerisms of others. She doesn't change her accent every time she happens to spend more than three weeks in a different section of the country.

In other words, she is a person. And she would rather dramatize the person that she is than try to imitate someone else.

If she is more-than-average in height, you never catch her wearing platform soles—no matter how much platform soles are touted. If purplish makeup isn't flattering, she skips purplish makeup—regardless of who wears it or who says it is the newest thing.

She is ever mindful of the background against which she lives, as well as of her own coloring, figure and type. If she is a business woman, there are more simple, suitable day dresses than frilly afternoon frocks in her warrobe. If her home is informally furnished and its surroundings slightly rustic she buys, for leisure hours, streamlined house coats and smart lounging pajamas rather than trailing chiffon tea gowns or elaborately embroidered robes.

She never over-works the latest slang expression. She knows half a dozen synonyms for such words as swell, cute, amusing.

Her political, economic and social views are based on sounder reasons than "My husband thinks" or "John says."

She can figure things out for herself. And she does.

"DID she say [illegible] long [illegible]"

Adam negotiated a sharp turn before he answered.

"There aren't any drive[illegible] between these quarters; they were built before the days of automobiles. You have to go the length of the row and take the back road — the garages all open on that. The Shaws are about in the middle of the row. He let them out in front. It would take him a few minutes to go around, put the car away and let himself in the back door. Mary said she and Lou made a tour of the house looking for intruders. Then Lou got to thinking about her dog that was shut in the house and she couldn't be sure that the door between the kitchen and the front part of the house was closed and there were her new Chinese rugs that they got on foreign service last year . . ."

He paused for breath.

"You mean to say they went out again?"

"Lou did—alone," he returned grimly. "Mary refused pointblank. Then when Shaw didn't come in Mary thought he'd encountered Lou and gone with her. She waited quite a while before she decided to call Lou's quarters, and when she didn't get any answer there she called me . . ."

"So Lou is missing too?"

"Unless her telephone is out of order."

The car was traveling slowly. We could see the identical back porches, each with its neat garbage can set out for the morning collection. As in front, each door was identified by signboards black-lettered with the name of the officer occupying the quarters.

There was no light at the Wheelers'.

"Sleeping the sleep of the just," Adam observed bitterly. "Shaws are next."

"Just as I thought," he reported with a half-humorous grimace. "The sentries have orders to detain 'any strangers or other suspicious-acting persons.'"

"How helpful!"

He shrugged. "At least they'll be here if they're needed."

COLONY HEADS TOWARD MORE INDEPENDENCE

Manager Says Project Must Be Divorced From Government Relief

PALMER, Alaska, July 19—(AP)—Uncle Sam's economic and social stepchild of the north, the Matanuska colony, headed today toward increased self-dependence under a policy of employment for merit.

The valley settlers, about whom has whirled many a political and economic debate in the four years of the project, voiced their approval at a semi-annual meeting yesterday of the new program expounded by L. C. Stock, manager of the Matanuska Cooperative. His keynote was:

"We must completely divorce the project from government relief and cooperate as a business. Personnel will be hired on a basis of merit and ability, not because they might need relief."

Stock enunciated the policy to approximately 400 settlers, representing the colony's 150 families, at the same time that Ross L. Sheely, manager for the government-financed Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation, told them it was the government's intention to turn the Matanuska project over to the co-op as soon as possible.

Originally the whole project was sponsored and financed by the government through the A. R. R. C. Last week the meat cannery and produce departments were transferred to the cooperative and an improved feeling was apparent among the settlers. Negotiations are pending for the co-op to absorb all the economic units.

The major problem faced by the cooperative will be the operating expenses for financing crops and adequate storage facilities.

The cooperative manager, who has had 18 years experience in such work, appealed to the members to assume the responsibility to see that dissension among members be eliminated, adding: "We expect to suggest certain crop limitations to meet available markets, but do not expect to dictate [illegible] planting."

The Matanuska colony's population now is about 750, compared with the 890 who joined in the original government-financed pioneering venture. Its cleared acres this year are producing an abundant 1939 crop.

GERMANS RAP STYLE CHANGES

Paper Asserts Women Should Wear Dresses As Long As They Last

BERLIN, July 19—(AP)—Das Schwarze Korps, organ of the elite S. S. Blackshirt Guards, poured scorn today on women's styles, especially in hats, as a wasteful "foreign swindle."

With an apology for invading the field of feminine fashion magazines Das Schwarze Korps declared:

"German women should learn that one puts a dress aside when it is worn out or no longer is suited to her age—not when it becomes 'out of fashion.'

"For what really becomes a woman 'charmingly' in the spring definitely becomes her just as charmingly next spring and the spring thereafter, provided it is good cloth and well taken care of."

Das Schwarze Korps sees in constantly changing fashion creations an irresponsible waste of material at the expense of national economy.

"For what is the use of our entire anti-waste campaign," the magazine asked, "if the fashion industry by a continuing change of styles intentionally makes products of the textile industry worthless almost from month to month?"

The publication found particularly distasteful [illegible] advertising magazines which convince women that to be beautiful they have to obtain [illegible]

FAIR DISMISSES MANY EMPLOYÉS

Economy Move Dictated By Attendance Below Expectations

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—The New York world's fair has dismissed several hundred employes—including members of its colorfully clad information corps—in an economy move dictated by failure of attendance to come up to expectations.

Officials of the $155,000,000 enterprise, the largest exposition in history, also are offering bargain day tickets this week-end and are considering reducing the admission fee from 75 to 50 cents.

The fair declined to announce the exact number of workers dismissed, but the information service cut was put unofficially at 250. A further cut of between 500 and 600 in the operations personnel has been made, the New York Times said.

President Grover Whalen said the staff reduction was in line with budget requirements and would not diminish service to visitors. A skeleton staff of 50 was retained in the information department.

"We must adhere to good business principles and keep our staff within the limitations of a business-like budget," Whalen said in explaining the reductions.

Officials declined comment on reports that 1,000 or more of the fair's 7,000 employes would be dismissed.

Most of the dismissed information officers were college men selected from 5,000 applicants. They received $30 a week and were granted a week's dismissal pay.

A group of 30 or more, protesting loss of their jobs, yanked gold braid from their resplendent blue and yellow uniforms yesterday and waded 100 yards through a long pool on the fair's main avenue, in a yelling, [illegible] shirt-tail parade.

Visitors applauded—thinking it part of the show.

In an attempt to increase traffic at the fair's gates, where attendance has averaged 50,000 to 100,000 fewer persons a day than was predicted, one travel agency reduced its all-expense tours for out-of-town visitors from [illegible] to 30 per cent.

It was the first case of a foreign ship being boarded for this purpose.

The names and nationalities of those arrested were not made known but the officer who conducted the examination said the charges were not serious.

The law forbids bringing in more than 200 yen ($54). The yen can be bought in the open Shanghai market much cheaper than in Japan, where the rate of about 27 cents per yen is maintained.

Tough On The Arsonist

Times are [illegible] most despicable of criminals [illegible] fire [illegible] prosecution [illegible] of the courts.

As a report of the committee on incendiarism and arson of the National Board of Fire Underwriters observes, "The past year has been one of continued activity and success [illegible] the number of investigations made and the activity of public authorities in making arrests and prosecutions. After many years of constant work, a system [illegible] has been developed which makes the professional fire-bug's chance of escape from detection extremely [illegible]."

The records of the national board covering cases in which their agents participated show a steady increase in the percentage of convictions following arrests and, generally speaking, a decline in the percentage of acquittals. This means that greater care is being taken in gathering evidence and greater zeal is being shown by prosecutors—to the end that the arsonist finds fewer legal loopholes which once made it relatively easy for him to escape the just punishment for his crime.

Of tremendous importance is the success achieved in breaking up the "arson rings" which periodically operate about the country. Under the ring system, arson is a business. Some rings have operated for years, and have defrauded insurance companies and others of fortunes. The arson fighters have paid special attention to these criminals, and the result is that scores of them are now behind bars serving long sentences.

The war against arson should have unanimous public support. The "torch" deserves no sympathy. He does deserve the severest possible punishment.

Informed. Wise?

It is possibly true, as Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czecho-Slovakia said in sailing for Europe, that Americans have "widespread alertness, knowledge, and understanding of world affairs."

We hope it is true. And we hope also that if it is true, it is properly ascribed by Benes as due largely to the American press, which he called "the best in the world, the most free, most informed, and very objective." It tries very hard to be, and Benes is not the first foreigner to form such an opinion.

But to be well informed is not enough. It is necessary also to use the information wisely, and to make the right decisions. We are still in this country a little inclined to be panicky, to jump at conclusions, and to allow sentimentality to rule our judgment of foreign matters in fields where Europe has about as much sentimentality as a buzzard.

To be well-informed is certainly good. But to be wise is better still.

HARD MARJORIE

Her [illegible] make friends [illegible].

Granny [illegible] and Marjorie were [illegible] first day, although there was no demonstration on either side. The [illegible] there seemed to be some sort of understanding between them that needed no words.

Every afternoon when Marjorie [illegible] school she followed her routine of [illegible] eating and then quietly made her way to granny's room. Granny smiled at her, got out an [illegible] book and read to her. When the story was finished Marjorie went to the little corner cupboard and took out an apple, two plates and a little old-fashioned fruit knife. She peeled and cut the apple into quarters, passed granny two of them, took the plate with the other two on her lap and then the two ate in communion, blissfully. Day after day that program never varied.

Granny had to go home at last and the family went to the railroad station to see her off. Little sister was so sorry granny was going away, but Marjorie when asked said, "Oh, granny has to go home, of course." There were no tears in her eyes, no hint of regret in her voice and her mother, vexed at such hardness, said, "And granny so kind. I'd think you'd be ashamed." Marjorie set her hard little jaw and looked down the tracks to sight the train.

All the way back home the talk was of granny, how she would be missed, how kind she was, how much she had done to make the children happy, and in all the talk Marjorie had no share. She sat stiffly silent all the way home and when father went to put the car up she disappeared. "Look for her and get her to come for her supper," said her mother. "I can't imagine where the child could go, and she just after parting with her granny. That child has no heart. She's hard as nails. Do, please, Daddy, see if you can find her."

Daddy hadn't been talking any too much that afternoon, come to think of it. And he hadn't said anything beyond "Yes," "No," "I guess so," since returning to the house. He seemed to know just where to look for Marjorie, turning directly to the stairs and going to the attic. In the darkest corner he picked up the little huddled heartbroken child who was sobbing out her grief and loneliness in the silence and darkness where nobody would hear or see.

"It's too bad, old girl," said daddy. "We'll see it out together. Maybe she will be back in the winter and maybe you and I can help each other a bit until then. And we'll go to see her, you and I, right soon."

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled "Lying," in which he tells parents the causes of this habit and how to help children to overcome it. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of the Monroe News-Star, Postoffice Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y. New Law Of War [illegible] protection [illegible] and other [illegible].

Japan [illegible] accepted that theory and had respect for it during her wars with China and Russia, and in the World war. But since her attack on China she has not respected that law. Japan justifies her acts today on a theory which evolved as a result of the World war. That as nations no longer fight with armies alone but use every available instrument of destruction, therefore the victims of war are not just to be soldiers but potential soldiers and all who contribute directly or indirectly to the success of the military.

The curse to civilization as a result of the war in the far east will be heavy indeed for the world to bear if the Chinese, when they start fighting back, accept this doctrine of promiscuous destruction. The military state of China in formation today is being built from the ground up. One of the most complete military nationalisms the world has ever known is being founded.

That nationalism may be built upon hate of the Japanese, because in Japan are centered all of the grievances that China during the last three or four generations has had against foreigners. Japan's attempt to dominate may thus result in a crushing loss to her own prestige and power. This should be avoided not only for Japan's sake, but for the world's sake.

Theories Of Peace

Fundamental theories and institutions of both Japan's and China's culture are built upon theories of peace, economic democracy within the nations and restraint. If Asia's bulk of populations is to be turned into a mass of hate the world has indeed a concern of the most gigantic magnitude to cope with.

China's great generalissimo has so far kept his people and his armies under restraint. That the adjustment in the far east shall come before there is a change in this policy should be the endeavor of all friends of world peace and welfare.

The war in China today is one of the saddest and in many respects one of the most useless, but its direful consequences may be even more terrible. If Japan should get control of

HANDCRAFT CLASS FORMED AT CLARKS

250 TERRIFIED AS TWO LIONS ESCAPE

SALEM, W. Va., July 19. (AP) Collapse of a cage freed two lions during a circus performance and threw more than 250 spectators into a panic as the beasts wandered about in their midst last night.

Trainers of the Blue Ridge Shows immediately corraled one of the animals but the other remained at large within an athletic field fenced area some 15 minutes. The Lions were relatively peaceful and molested none of the circus-goers.

Release of the kings of the jungle sent the crowd stampeding toward the gates. One woman fainted. Mrs. Otis Maxon was knocked down and hurt slightly. Half a dozen persons got their clothes wet in crossing a small creek to escape the circus grounds. A veritable fence climbing contest quickly cleared the place.

Jimmie Fidler In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 19. Sometimes I wonder if a good many of Hollywood's woes aren't traceable to the time-honored habit of estimating audience likes and dislikes by the fan mail method. Fifteen years ago, perhaps, fan mail gave a fair cross section [illegible] the great majority of steady movie patrons. And youngsters are the fan letter writers. Today, adults, most of whom never take time out to write a studio or a star, dominate the average audience. Fan mail offers no criterion of their tastes in entertainment.

HOBO SECRETARY FATHER OF NINE

PITTSBURGH, July 19. (AP) A Pittsburgh man so domesticated he has nine children is the new international secretary of the League of Hoboes of the World and of the Hoboes of America.

He's George Siebert, 47-year-old union business agent and formerly one of 17 vice presidents of hobo league. Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, named him to replace John Weller, one-time Altoona, Pa., police sergeant who died last week.

Siebert met Davis in Chicago while he was on the road in 1912. He rode the freights for six years before marriage and children began to tie him down in a home.

"I'm going to aid and assist young fellows and get them to stay off the road," declared the new hobo secretary. "For a long time I've been doing that—picking up hitch-hikers and helping them."

Davis, stopping here on his way from Weller's funeral, announced the international convention of hoboes scheduled for Toronto, Canada, in September had been cancelled due to the secretary's death.

WAVE OF HEAT COVERS SOUTH

Part Of East Enjoys Third Day Of Fairly Cool Weather

(By Associated Press)

A steaming heat wave overspread the south today while the Great Lakes region and part of the east enjoyed the third successive day of fairly cool weather.

Heat and wind hampered 500 men still battling a 1,000-acre lightning-set forest fire in the Yellowstone National park.

Electric and wind storms accompanied by a heavy rain lashed central and western Indiana yesterday, causing some property loss, but bringing needed moisture for crops.

Showers occurred overnight in Virginia, North Carolina and parts of Mississippi and Alabama. Norfolk, Va., reported 1.91 inches of rain and Raleigh, N. C., 1.04 inches.

The northern and eastern cool wave lowered temperatures yesterday, including maximum readings of Boston, 79; Chicago, 71; Cleveland, 73; Detroit, 78; Duluth, 53; Minneapolis-St. Paul, 68; Pittsburgh, 65, and Washington, 71.

Georgia experienced one of the hottest days of the summer. A new season high of 96 was set in Atlanta. Columbus had 102 and Augusta 101. In Alabama, Birmingham reported 100 and Mobile 93. Shreveport, La., and Fort Smith, Ark., each had 100.

Temperatures remained in the high 90's in the midwest and Rocky mountain area.

Progress [illegible] in Texas, the report indicated, but plants were scalded in some coastal sections where high temperatures followed heavy rains. Elsewhere in the western belt conditions were favorable and bolls were forming.

'HOT OIL'

proval given this investigation by Governor Earl Long, and his pledge of earnest cooperation with the federal officials in baring the guilt and urging the punishment of those who benefited financially from this lawless practice, NO MATTER WHAT THEIR PUBLIC STATION OR STANDING. If the governor translates his encouraging words into actions, he will have performed a valuable service to the cause of justice and to the state.

We have mentioned two individuals in connection with the "hot oil" scandal because we feel that the nature of the evidence confided to us imposes upon us a plain public duty in the premises. But, there are others being drawn into the net that federal justice is spreading—men of even higher public station, some men of business prominence—even, we are reliably informed, major and minor oil companies. The "hot oil" scandal is like a streak of tar that soils and spreads, and spreads and soils, until there is little left unspotted.

Let the truth be known. The public wants the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; and it is entitled to nothing less.

We repeat—"LET THE CHIPS FALL WHERE THEY MAY!"

ENTERS ROOM WITH FOLDER OF DOCUMENTS

ceive oil evidence uncovered by the federal grand jury and other investigators.

Rowland said the offices in the post office, adjacent to the federal court, would be temporary. When several members of his office staff arrive for establishment of what may be a permanent office larger quarters will be sought in the customs house building.

Reports current today were that the oil investigation would for the present be limited to south Louisiana but that it might be extended to a state-wide probe on orders from Ickes.

Elmer Irey, chief of the intelligence division of the internal revenue bureau of the treasury department, expected here this morning to gather evidence of alleged income tax violations, was detained in Washington for several days. His absence may postpone further indictments by the grand jury which Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge said has just begun its work.

The jury reconvened here this morning after being in recess since Monday afternoon.

Tugwell, a candidate for governor in 1936, said certain Louisiana firms dealing in oil well supplies, tanks and other equipment * * * are compelled to [illegible] through the Maxwell Supply company of Houston, Tex.

"In so doing," he said, "the Louisiana dealers have to allow the Maxwell company a discount of 10 per cent on all such sales and deliveries even though the Maxwell company does nothing more than bill the equipment."

He said the registered agent of the company was State Representative C. A. Morvant of Thibodaux, an attorney for the Louisiana department of conservation.

Morvant said the Tugwell statement was "untrue."

Asked if he was agent for the Maxwell company, he replied:

"I think I am. I represent various people and I think the Maxwell company is one I represent."

Meanwhile, Dr. James Monroe Smith, former president of Louisiana State university, brought to the school from a deanship at Southwestern Louisiana institute in 1930 by Huey Long, remained in federal jail in New Orleans under 25 indictments charging such offenses as embezzlement, forgery and mail fraud.

Additional criminal action was anticipated in the federal case in which five men were charged with selling to L. S. U. for $75,000 hotel furnishings which L. S. U. already owned. The five named included Dr. Smith and Seymour Weiss, hotel man and former treasurer of Huey Long's political organization.

In Baton Rouge, as the parish grand jury probe of Louisiana State university's financial scandal moved slowly, the university's alumni captured the spotlight yesterday.

Tom Dutton, towering captain of the 1919 L. S. U. football team and now alumni federation president, demanded that all members on the board of supervisors when the affair broke on June 25 resign their positions.

Another ex-football captain, Dr. M. H. Gandy, of the undefeated 1908 L. S. U. team, joined Dutton in an open forum of alumni and "friends" of the university last night.

Whenever the demand for resignations were mentioned during the four-hour speaking session, the crowd broke into wild applause.

The only dissenting voice in the clamor for "de-politicizing" the supervisory board was Joseph Deblieux, young Baton Rouge attorney, who shouted:

"If you take all the politicians off the board, you better be sure you know where you're going to get the money to run the school."

Various speakers suggested that the permanent president of L. S. U. be chosen locally and Lewis Gootlieb, Baton Rouge banker and a new member of the board, recommended Dr. Paul M. Hebert, now serving as acting president, for the job.

The group, which dwindled from nearly 400 to less than 100 as the speaking continued, closed the meeting with a vote of confidence in the school's temporary administration.

Gottlieb said L. S. U.'s present financial muddle was caused by the school's desire for national prestige before proper foundation was laid. Dr. Hebert, who spoke first and then left so the alumni could "talk freely," attributed the scandal to L. S. U.'s "mushroom growth." Frank Ellis of Covington said the state's political system caused it. Dutton and Gandy blamed the situation on a "politicized board of supervisors."

C. J. Rabby, Baton Rouge oil plant worker, offered resolutions calling for investigations of the university cafeteria, bookstore and athletic department to determine whether students had been "overcharged." The group voted down one resolution and declined to act on the others.

Dr. Hebert suggested that alumni from all over the state meet next fall to discuss how they may help the university "get back on its feet." Gottlieb suggested that the students also hold a similar meeting when the school term opens in September.

LECHE RECALLED BY PARISH GRAND JURY

BATON ROUGE, La., July 19.—(AP)—Former Governor Richard W. Leche was recalled by the East Baton Rouge grand jury as a witness today for further questioning in connection with the investigation of Louisiana State university and other matters.

Leche, nattily dressed and leaning heavily on a cane, appeared at the courthouse at 10 a.m. today but did not go before the jury at once.

He carried a folder under his left arm. District Attorney Dewey J. Sanchez was asked by reporters if this contained cancelled checks and receipts but Sanchez said he could not divulge what documents the grand jury had asked Leche to produce.

It will be Leche's second appearance before the jury. He was questioned for nearly three hours Monday, then returned to his home in Covington, La.

MAXWELL COMPANY OFFICIALS ABSENT

HOUSTON, Tex., July 19.—(AP)—Officials of the Maxwell Supply company were out of town today and office attaches said no comment could be made in their absence on the statement by A. P. Tugwell, Louisiana state treasurer, that the firm received a ten per cent commission on oil machinery and supplies which Louisiana firms [illegible] bought.

It was said that Maxwell, head of the firm, would not be back for a week.

Messengers are coming to the congress from such widely separated places as China and Chile, Norway and New Zealand. They will represent others, the general secretary said, only to the extent that they share "the thoughts and feeling" of their brethren back home and return and "interpret the thoughts and feelings of the congress."

The congress will last a week. Up for discussion will be such subjects as religious freedom, the preservation of peace and Christian unity.

Dr. Rushbrooke arrived several days ago to aid in rounding out arrangements for the meeting. Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, Tex., president of the alliance, arrived Monday night.

ROOSEVELT WON'T TALK OF 3RD TERM

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt touched on a variety of subjects at his press conference yesterday, as follows:

Turned aside a question as to whether he ever had told anyone he would run for a third term and wanted Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, for the vice-presidential nominee, asked whether it would be fair to label that story (by Walter Winchell) a newspaper story.

Said federal agencies were being asked to put some of their new funds in a reserve in the hope of saving money, the same plan was used in the last fiscal year.

Expressed the off-hand opinion that WPA Commissioner Harrington has no authority to change the new 130-hour month for skilled relief workers.

Said he would be afraid to comment on business conditions, such as the stock market's rise of the last few days.

Criticized proposed wage-hour amendments by Representative Barden, Democrat, North Carolina, claiming they would in effect exempt the 2,000,000 poorest paid industrial employes.

NUDIST PARTY GIRL ENDS LIFE

Action Follows Argument With Husband Over Leaving Colony

HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—(AP)—The 19-year-old wife of a dance band leader was dead today of a bullet police said she fired herself as the climax of an argument with her husband over a four-hour absence from a nudist colony where they spent the week-end.

Police Captain Dalton R. Patton said an investigation had convinced him Dawn Blood Noel, daughter of the once-noted Broadway actress, Adele Blood, was a suicide. Details of the shooting were sobbed out by 36-year-old Herbert (Jimmy) Noel, her husband of 18 months.

Noel told officers he was upbraiding an acquaintance over the telephone for accompanying his wife away from the camp when he heard a shot. Rushing into the bedroom of their north Hollywood home, he found her lying on the floor, blood streaming from a wound in her temple.

"We had gone last Saturday to the nudist camp in Tunas canyon," Patton quoted Noel as saying. "The party continued that night, all day Sunday and Monday. We came home about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

"We had been doing some drinking at the camp and made several trips back to the (Noel) house during the party. Monday night, about 6 p.m., Dawn said she was going home to feed the dogs and exercise them, and that she would be right back. She didn't come back for four hours.

"I found that two men and a girl I know only as Jeanette joined Dawn at my home."

Noel said his wife had seemed despondent and melancholy much of the time since her mother killed herself on the grounds of the Westchester Country club, Port Chester, N. Y., in September, 1936. He brought his wife here a year ago.

The shooting occurred shortly after their return home yesterday.

RESCUED JAPANESE PUT ON OTHER SHIP

TOKYO, July 19.—(AP)—The rescued passengers and crew of the ill-fated Japanese freighter Bokuyo Maru were transferred at sea today from the rescue ship, the American tanker Associated, to the Florida Maru to permit them to continue on to Japan.

The Bokuyo Maru was en route from San Pedro, Calif., with a cargo of Chilean nitrates yesterday when an explosion and fire occurred about 3,750 miles west of San Francisco. The Tidewater Associated Oil company tanker was the first to reach the freighter after her SOS.

(The tanker, captained by L. E. Hawkins, en route from Manila to San Francisco, reported that she picked up all but three of the freighter's 212 passengers and crew, the others being lost.)

The American vessel wirelessed word of the transfer today as Minister of Communications Harumichi Tanabe messaged the government's gratitude to her skipper.

Tanabe's message said he wished to "express profound gratitude for racing to the distressed ship and successfully rescuing persons aboard despite difficult circumstances."

FRENCH AIRMEN TO FLY TO CALIFORNIA

MARSEILLE, France, July 19.—(AP)—The famous French airman, Reserve Major Maurice Rossi, announced today he would leave soon for California to attempt to regain the non-stop distance record he once held by flying from Hollywood to Jibuti, French east African port.

Rossi, now at the air base at Istres, said that several French mechanics and field men already had left for Hollywood taking two French motors with them.

Rossi and Paul Codos set a distance record when they flew from New York to Syria, 5,658 miles, August 5-7, 1933. That mark stood until July 15, 1937, when three Russian airmen completed a flight from Moscow over the North Pole to San Jacinto, Calif., 6,296 miles.

That was bettered by two British air forces planes which flew from Ismailia, Egypt, to Port Darwin, Australia, 7,160 miles, November 5-7, 1938.

Rossi said that on his attempt at a new mark he would fly across the United States, take the North Atlantic route over Newfoundland and Ireland, fly over Paris and then head for Syria and land at Jibuti "if I can make it."

Syria is about 8,000 miles from Hollywood, Jibuti about 9,000.

FRAZAR STATES JOB TEMPORARY

Asserts He Wants To Continue Life's Work In Education

LAFAYETTE, La., July 19.—(AP)—Lether E. Frazar, president of Southwestern Louisiana institute, who was sworn in yesterday as head of the state highway commission, said he intended to continue education as his life work and that he had agreed to serve as chairman of the commission on a "temporary basis only."

Frazar was called to Baton Rouge to take over the affairs of the highway commission succeeding Chairman L. P. Abernathy whose resignation was announced by Governor Earl K. Long.

Frazer, on his return to Lafayette, said he was willing to devote ninety days to highway affairs provided the state board of education granted him a leave of absence for that period but that he had no intention of giving up the educational field.

"I felt that since much of this period would fall in the college vacation, I would not be so busy with the school affairs and I was willing to give the governor my services," Frazar said.

"I do not know as yet if the board of education will grant me a leave of absence. If it does not do so I intend to remain right at my post at Southwestern.

"My interest in education comes first with me at all times and I intend to make it my life's work. I appreciate the expression of confidence placed in me by Governor Long and I wish to do everything I can to help in his efforts for the welfare of Louisiana."

Several hundred citizens in mass meeting here last night adopted resolutions commending Governor Long for his selection of Frazar but urged that he be returned to his college administration as soon as possible.

Governor Long said Frazar had agreed to accept the position as a "civic duty."

LATTER SAYS AMERICA NOT UNDER HITLER

a definite understanding that there would be no senate move on neutrality until the next session. Adjournment of congress is expected in two or three weeks.

The president's intention to take his fight to the country conferees explained, was voiced during a heated discussion with Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, a leading opponent of the administration's neutrality program.

Borah, who voted last week with the majority of the foreign relations committee against action at this session, was described as making it plain that he never would agree to repeal of the arms embargo, key point in the president's drive to revise the law.

In the ensuing discussion, the president was said to have declared that he planned to go to the country, to tell the people his views. To this Borah was quoted as replying that others also would be discussing the issue and that the people would have a chance to decide which side they believed.

The final decision to abandon efforts to revise the law at this session was said to have been brought about by an informal poll of those present, taken by Vice-President Garner.

Besides the president, Garner, Hull and Borah, those who attended the conference were Democratic Leader Barkley, Republican Leader McNary, Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, of the foreign relations committee and Senator Austin, Republican, Vermont, assistant minority leader.

The upshot of the long discussion was that two statements were penciled out, agreed to by the conferees, and given to Stephen Early, a White House secretary.

Coming out of the front White House door about 11:30 p.m., Early told a large group of reporters, "Boys, I've got the whole story here." Many followed him to the executive offices, where he read the statements.

The first said:

"Senator Barkley said the consensus of opinion on the part of those members of the senate present was that no action on neutrality legislation can be obtained in the senate at the present session and that a majority of the senate would concur in this view.

"Senator McNary expressed the same belief.

"They agreed that a majority of the senate would consider neutrality legislation at the beginning of the next session."

The second said:

"The president and the secretary of state maintained the definite position that failure by the senate to take action now would weaken the leadership of the United States in exercising its potent influence in the cause of preserving peace among other nations in the event of a new crisis in Europe between now and next January."

The president was represented by some of those present as being particularly anxious that the responsibility for failure to act—a failure which he contended would tie this country's hands if war broke out in Europe—be placed squarely on the senate.

This was reported to have provoked a bristling exchange with Borah, in which the veteran Idaho senator, sitting directly opposite the president, was quoted as saying:

"Of course the responsibility must rest upon the senate. Where else could it rest? It is perfectly proper that it should be there. We are not operating under Hitler."

In a sharp exchange of views with Borah, one conferee said, the president declared that the senator might have his opinions, but that he, the president, had facts.

At one point, accounts of the meeting continued, Garner turned to Mr. Roosevelt and said:

"You had just as well be candid about this, captain; you haven't got the votes."

Garner then asked Barkley if he thought the administration controlled sufficient votes to discharge the foreign relations committee from consideration of the neutrality legislation and bring it directly to the floor. Barkley replied that in his opinion it did not, and cited results of a poll he had taken in the afternoon.

McNary and Austin agreed with Barkley's summarization, and Garner then asked Borah if he believed there was a possibility that the administration could upset the 12 to 11 vote by which the foreign relations committee declined to act. Borah's reply was in the negative.

CLASSES IN LIFE SAVING TO BE HELD

Much interest and enthusiasm in all methods of water safety is being shown this year by swimmers of all ages at the R. D. Swayze natatorium. Two classes in junior and senior life saving have just been completed under the direction and instruction of Russell Harding, George Bubb and Jack Blanks. The classes were sponsored by the Ouachita chapter of Red Cross.

Another class in junior and senior Red Cross life saving will be initiated Monday, July 24 at 7 p.m. All those desirous of enrolling for the course are asked to report to Jack Blanks and Russell Harding at the natatorium at that time.

Full details concerning these courses may be obtained from the Red Cross chapter office in the old Central Bank building.

Rodney J. Hobbs Post To Burn Evidence Of Land Indebtedness

Jollification will be intermingled with the regular order of business at Thursday night's meeting of the Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, as a burning of a note will form an interesting number on the program.

This note, now paid in full, was given H. M. James, senior post vice-commander, for money loaned when property at Oak and Sixth streets was purchased by the post.

Now with the note paid the post owns a fine site on which money will be raised to build a new and commodious home for the organization. It is hoped that it can be erected as a suitable war memorial honoring the memory of men who fell in defense of their country.

District Commander Lawrence Himel, of Rayville, is expected to attend Thursday night's meeting, also Ray B. Griffin, commander of the Boone-McDowell post of Bastrop, and Joseph Singer, commander of the Edwin Parnell post of Ruston with Frank Furguson, commander of the post at Winnsboro, and other guests from nearby posts.

CHARGE AGAINST DOLEZAL REDUCED

CLEVELAND, July 19.—(AP)—A first-degree murder charge against Frank Dolezal, accused "torso murder" killer, today was reduced to a charge of manslaughter, and he was held for the grand jury under $15,000 bond.

Dolezal, a 52-year-old bricklayer, previously had pleaded innocent.

Conviction on the first-degree murder charge would have made Dolezal liable to death. A manslaughter conviction carries only a sentence of one to 10 years.

Justice of the Peace Myron J. Penty reduced the charge, after hearing Lieutenant Olin Troescher of East Cleveland police tell of a lie detector test in which he said Dolezal told of a fight with Mrs. Florence Polillo, whom he is accused of killing. The officer quoted Dolezal as saying he cut off Mrs. Polillo's head only after he thought she was dead. She had threatened him with a knife, he said.

Mrs. Polillo, parts of whose body were found in January, 1936, was the third victim in a dozen decapitations attributed by some authorities to one surgically skilled "torso killer."

DOWNING IN TOURNEY

Ben Downing, Jr., Monroe's 16-year-old golfing wizard, is a competitor in the annual Trans-Mississippi golf tournament now under way at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Downing is seeking his fourth title this year and is competing in the fastest company he has yet had to face in his golfing conquests.

He started the present season by winning his third consecutive Louisiana state high school championship at Baton Rouge in the spring. In June he became the first local golfer to win the annual Twin City amateur tourney over the McGuire park course in West Monroe, and he won the ninth annual Kraft Paper Golf tournament at Bastrop two weeks ago. The state's outstanding golfers were Downing's opponents in the events here and at Bastrop.

DONALD MAKES MARK AS YANKS DEFEAT BROWNS

Rookie Wins 11th Straight As Champions Take Double Header

ST. LOUIS, July 19—(AP)—Atley Donald, the New York Yankees' undefeated right-hander, pitched a new American league record onto the books Tuesday when he shut out the Browns 9-0, on three hits in the first game of a double header.

It was the 26-year-old recruit's 11th straight victory. The best previous performance by a first-year man was that of Harry Krause, who won ten straight for the Philadelphia Athletics back in 1909.

For a while it appeared that Veteran Oral Hildebrand would go his young teammate one better by hurling no-hit ball in the nightcap. But Billy Sullivan clipped the former Brownie for a double that drove in a run in the seventh, and in the nine Joe Grace singled, and George McQuinn clouted a homer.

That was the signal for Manager Joe McCarthy to [illegible] Hildebrand to the showers and bring Fireman Johnny Murphy [illegible]. The Fireman [illegible] the next [illegible] and the Yanks [illegible] game [illegible] 4-3 to sweep the bargain [illegible].

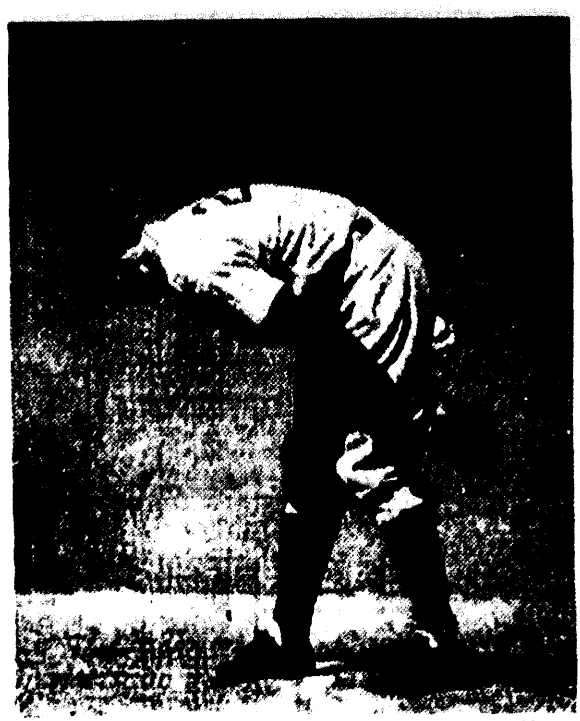
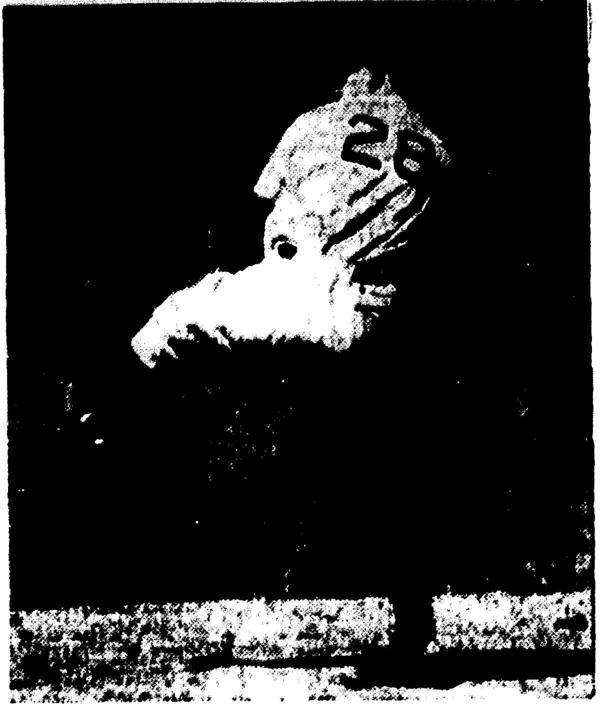
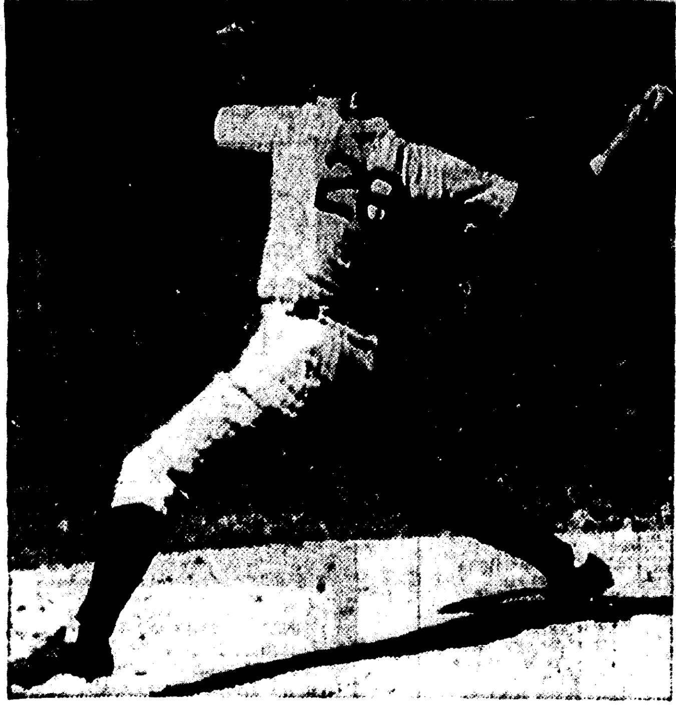
ATLEY DONALD, YANKEE ROOKIE, IS SHOOTING AFTER 20 VICTORIES



Here's the way Atley Donald rings up a strike: He bends forward and low to get momentum . . .



He faces the batter, grips the ball firmly, raises his left foot for the forward step, and rears back . . .



He pulls his right arm far back, plants his left foot down toward the plate and prepares to fire . . .

CARDS BEAT GIANTS

NEW YORK, July 19—(AP)—Carl Hubbell made a surprise appearance as the Giants' starting pitcher Tuesday. He did effective work in spots but the St. Louis Cardinals got to him for enough hits to win the ball game 5-3 and pull even with the Terrymen in a tie for third place.

It was the veteran southpaw's first start since June 4, when he had to be relieved in the first inning. This time he lasted until the seventh, when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter.

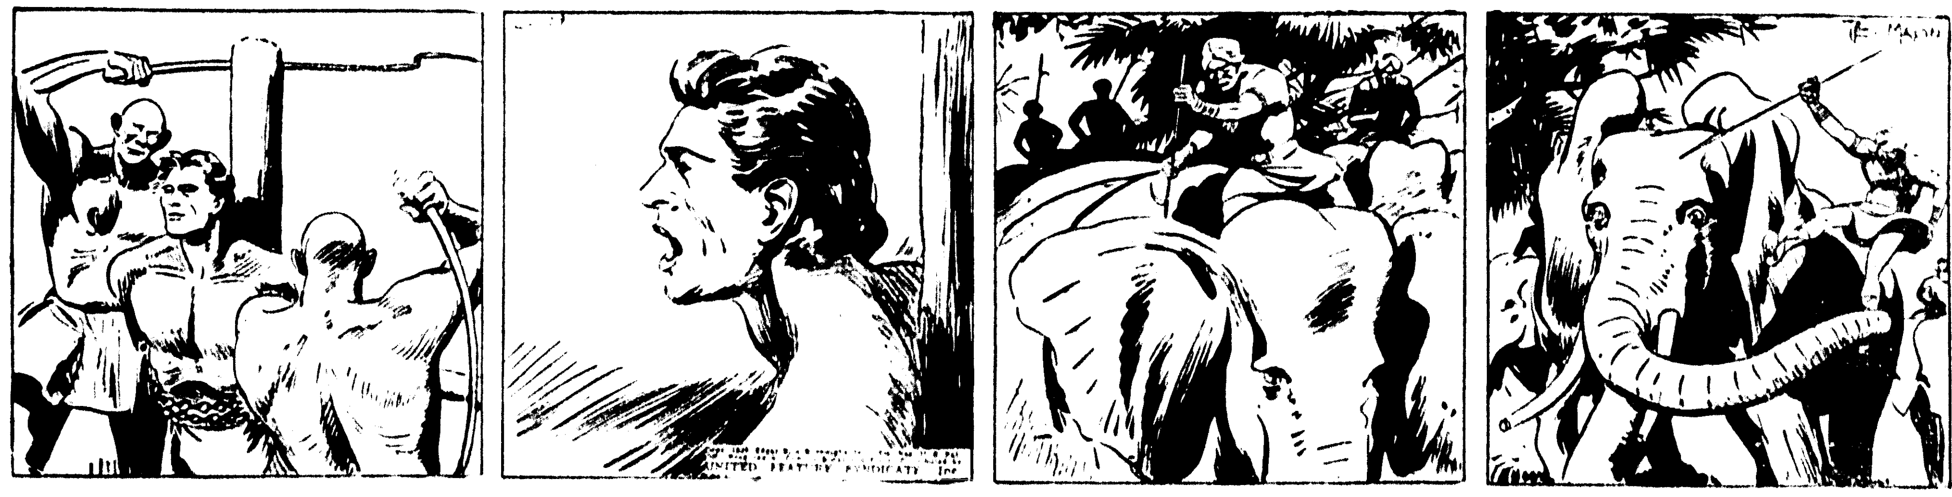
TARZAN AND THE FIRES OF TOHR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



UNITED FEATURE SYNDICATE, INC.

With an imperious gesture, Ahtea gave the command. The guards stepped up, ready to lay their lashes violently against the flesh of Tarzan, O'Rourke and Kailuk. This was the moment the Jungle Lord had been awaiting to make his desperate, dramatic bid for freedom.

His eyes had been resting on Black Malluk, the huge elephant ridden by Mungo in the line of palace guards. Malluk was Tarzan's friend. Now that friendship, and Tarzan's power over the beast, were to be tested. The ape-man's voice rang out: "Malluk! Tarzan yo!"

The big beast ceased his restless weaving. His immense ears sprang out like great black wings. He lifted his trunk, trumpeted loudly. Suddenly he lunged forward toward the ape-man. Mungo, trying to stop him, dug deep with his goad into the thick hide of his mount.

With an angry squeal, Black Malluk threw back his sinuous trunk and wrapped it around his tormentor's leg. With a mighty swing the jungle titan dashed the yellow giant to the ground. The contagion of Malluk's rage spread to the other beasts. Panic! Stampede!

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—Aircraft shares led a final hour recovery in the stock market today but many leaders failed to get out of the narrow rut in which they had fluctuated all day and there were more minus than plus signs at the close.

The opening was moderately fast on the downside, with traders anxious to annex the gains made in the rallies of Monday and Tuesday. Activity later slowed. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—The stock market trod a narrow path today with most leaders holding to the minus side.

What selling pressure there was came at the opening and buyers soon appeared and first losses were diminished. Toward the fourth hour weakness again developed and prices neared their lows. A few favorite shares managed to achieve net gains, however. Activity was slow.

Profit taking seemed the primary cause for the price weakness although some traders used as an excuse for lightening commitments indications from Washington President Roosevelt did not consider prospects for peace in Europe as hopefully as did some others.

In the meantime brokerage houses were calling back from vacations partners and employes in anticipation of a continuation of the unusual volume of the early part of the week. Public participation in the market as represented by [illegible] orders generated [illegible] the financial district.

Foreign markets including London, Amsterdam and Paris were lower with transatlantic shares generally [illegible]. This was attributed to disappointment over the shelving of neutrality [illegible] session at this session of congress rather than to further concern over the Danzig situation. The [illegible] abroad, however, was said to have played a part in keeping some potential buyers on the sidelines. Domestic commodities were mixed. Bonds were narrowly lower.

Despite the downswing a few shares pushed through to touch new 1939 highs. They included Loft, a [illegible] in the first hour, Burlington Mills and Manhattan railway. United [illegible].

[illegible] American Telephone [illegible] began [illegible]. Others to suffer were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, General Motors, American Smelting, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman, Santa Fe and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Lower in the curb were Aluminum Company and Newmont Mining.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 19.—(AP)—Firmness at Liverpool for the first time in nearly a week helped boost prices here early today 1-2 cent a bushel.

The English market, due 5-8 to 7-8 higher on the basis of action here yesterday, opened 1 1-8 to 1 3-8 up. Contributing to the upturn was the Canadian government week's crop summary which reported crop deterioration from a week of high temperatures and little rain.

Opening 1-8 to 3-8 higher, July 66 5-8 to 3-4, September 67 3-8 to 1-4, Chicago wheat prices later advanced a little further. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 off, July 43 1-2, September 44 5-8 to 7-8.

Wheat closed 1-8 to 3-8 lower, July 66 1-8, September 66 3-4 to 7-8; corn 1 to 1 1-4 lower, July 42 3-4 to 5-8, September 43 3-4 to 5-8; oats 1-8 higher to 3-8 lower.

BILL TO CURB POLITICS HEADS TOWARD DEBATE

Peppery Oratory On Issue Expected In House Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Between those who think it doesn't go far enough and those who don't want it to go anywhere at all, the revised Hatch bill "to curb pernicious political activity" is headed for peppery oratory in the house tomorrow.

Originally, the measure prohibited all federal officials, save those in certain policy making posts, from taking part in political activities. Some members of congress argued that it was so drastic as to prevent them from advocating their own reelection and would forbid their office employes from working in their campaigns.

The house judiciary committee, however, modified the bill. Critics of that action say it would allow federal officials including those who deal with relief to participate in the activities of a political party.

The legislation grows in part out of the long inquiry into election practices made last year by the senate campaign expenditures committee. It heard scores of complaints against the uses that politicians in several states had made of federal funds and employes.

Many of the practices condemned by the committee would be outlawed by the Hatch bill. The measure, already approved by the senate, forbids coercion or intimidation to prevent a person from voting for whom he pleases.

It makes unlawful the use of official authority by any person in an administrative position in any federal agency to interfere with or affect the election of a candidate for federal office. In the going-over given the bill by the house judiciary committee, however, a proviso was put into this section saying:

"Nothing herein shall be deemed to affect the right of any such person to state his preference with respect to any such candidates or to participate in the activities of a political party."

This phrase came into the bill after Vice President Garner had told reporters they could write that the Hatch bill would become law this session. The men managing the Garner campaign would like to see the participation of federal employes in the next Democratic national convention held to a minimum.

CHINESE CLAIM BIG SUCCESSES

Tell Of Major Victories Against Japanese Deep In Interior

SHANGHAI, July 19.—(AP)—Chinese [illegible] reports from the deep interior [illegible] of major successes against Japanese forces along [illegible] Hupeh and Shansi provinces, the present main theaters of [illegible] the 2-year-old Japanese-Chinese war.

These advices said a big-scale battle was in progress in southeastern Shansi province, scene of intermittent hostilities since the first weeks of the war. The Chinese reported that their foe had lost 7,000 men there in the past fortnight.

On the other front, about 100 miles west of Hankow, the Chinese reported they were pushing the invaders back from the Han river, which they had been trying to cross since a few weeks after the October 26 fall of Hankow.

The Japanese drive westward through Hupeh province had been directed at Shansi and Ichang, important mid-Yangtze ports upriver from Hankow.

The Shansi campaign has been active at various times at crossings of the Yellow river southward into Honan province for a junction with forces along the Lunghai railway and westward for an invasion of Shansi province.

It was impossible to confirm the latest Chinese reports but it had long been apparent that the Japanese were stalled in Shansi and Hupeh.

The latest development in Japanese-British friction in China—a Japanese charge that a British soldier on the outskirts of Shanghai bayonetted a Chinese railway crossing employe—brought the threat of an anti-British boycott from the Japanese operators of the war-commandeered central China railways. They said they might refuse railway facilities to Britons and British goods.

Japanese military authorities joined railway officials in accusing the soldier of "lunging and stabbing without provocation our employe, which is evidence of callous bad faith" and "constitutes, in effect, interference with the duties of those engaged in constructing the new order in east Asia."

The British military called the charges "utter rubbish."

WHAM RESIDENT INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Edward Miller, of Wham, was slightly injured yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident nine miles northeast of here on the old Bastrop road. Miller, with two small boys who were riding in a small truck with him, was brought to Riverside sanitarium in an ambulance but allowed to leave the hospital after being treated for minor cuts and bruises.

State police, who investigated the accident, said no other machine was involved in the accident. Miller was said to have lost control of the truck he was driving and the machine left the road and ran into a ditch.

METEOR MISSED THEM

CLYDE, Kas.—(AP)—Members of the Lester Hess family, near here, heard something shooting through the air. A meteorite, 13 inches in circumference, had missed the house by inches, struck the radio aerial, grazed a porch and embedded itself in the ground several inches. They recovered it and found one side resembled granite; the other a house brick.

MELON FESTIVAL PLANS FINISHED

Party Will Be Held At Ruston On Wednesday Night

RUSTON, La., July 19.—(Special)—With 250 home grown melons on ice, arrangements have been completed for the annual watermelon festival to be sponsored by the Ruston Chamber of Commerce at Woodland park at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mayor Sam Caldwell of Shreveport, who recently announced his candidacy for governor, is among the special guests reported to have accepted an invitation to attend the festival. The list also includes Senator Leo Terzia of Bastrop, several railroad officials, newspaper men and representatives of chambers of commerce from surrounding cities. Governor Earl K. Long is said to have accepted an invitation tentatively, but his definite acceptance was not known here late Tuesday.

The entertainment has been arranged by the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Raymond Heard is chairman. Music will be furnished by the [illegible] Tech [illegible] directed by L. V. E[illegible], head of the Tech music department.

MEN RETURNING TO SCHOOL ROOM

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Men, who made up 32 per cent of the nation's school teachers in 1900 but only 18 per cent in 1920, gradually are returning to the school room.

Some 266,000 male teachers, composing one-fourth of the teaching total, were listed today in a government survey covering 1934-36 for the latest full report on education in the United States.

The survey showed that Latin, French and Spanish are losing popularity in public high schools. Where every other student took Latin in 1900, only four out of 25 now enroll.

The most popular subjects were English, mathematics, commercial studies, science and physical education.

More than 30,000,000 persons, or one-fourth the nation's population, were enrolled in full time day schools in 1935-36, with more than 2,000,000 in other type schools. Total expenditures for education, public and private, were listed as $2,650,000,000.

INFORMAL PROGRAM GIVEN FOR LIONS

MISS SMITH SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

[illegible] Miss Ka[illegible] Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Smith [illegible] Louisiana [illegible] Donald[illegible] improvement Tuesday night, stated J. Arthur Smith, Jr., a brother who returned from her bedside.

All other members of the family are at the Donaldsonville hospital, where she was removed immediately after the wreck occurred. Her injury is said to be to the brain but there was no skull fracture, as at first feared. A specialist from New Orleans is in attendance on her and hopes are held out for her recovery.

All told, seven were injured and removed to the same hospital but Miss Smith was by far the worst injured. Those injured were riding in the two cars that were involved in a head-on collision.

HOMECOMING FOR SUNDAY PROPOSED

A homecoming will be observed at the Oak Grove Baptist church, seven miles from Eros, in the Okaloosa community, on Sunday.

All who have ever been members of the church or who have members of their families and friends who attend there are urged to make a special effort to be present.

There will be morning worship at 11 a.m. and dinner will be served on the grounds at the close of the service. Special music is planned for the afternoon hours and also in the evening.

Rev. J. T. Hinkle will be the speaker of the day and he is urging that there be a record sized audience present.

SOUTHERN TO GIVE EXTENSION STUDY

The Southern university (negro institution) summer extension school will open at the Monroe Colored High school July 24 and will close August 26.

Courses will be confined chiefly to an elementary curriculum.

The cost of tuition will be $10, payable in advance, and the last day to register will be July 25.

Students will be limited to three courses carrying nine hours of credit. L. R. Posey will have charge as acting director.
